The old lady ghost

One day, I went to Bathgate Hills to explore some things in there, I was walking around ^{and} I heard a strange noise I looked back to see and there was ~~no~~ nobody I was doing my explore and someone said my name I turned ^{around} to see if someone is there nobody was there. I packed my stuffs, to go home, when I grab my bag I heard some steps I took my bike and go home but my bike go broke I don't know how, I didn't think it was a ghost. I saw a old lady walking around with a white towel around her hair. I was sure that I saw ^{her} I said to her (stop you are scaring me stop.) I looked in her eyes and told her (why are you following me, stop.) She told me I'm following ^{you} because you are bad, She was in a weird face when she heard. She found a phone and she phoned the police when the ghost heard that she is speaking with someone she runned away the girl that phoned the police was really scared, she told the police what happens when the police came there, the police was thinking that she is crazy but the another police officer heard a woman saying (police, police, help me) the police went to the house that the ghost shouted they went there and they didn't see nothing the ghost was hiding with a knife ^{at} ^{her} she wants to kill her but the police officer turned around and he saw that the ghost wants to kill the girl. They called her name and told her to stop, the ghost runned away finally

the police runed after her ~~family~~ they catch her. The girl was very happy and proud of the police.

The end of the story.
