

Animal Rescue in bathgate hills

22 One foggy damp day the animals of bathgate hills where chilling in their holes, burrows and the untill they heard two loud thumps. thump! thump!

69 Once they got out of their homes they saw a big ufo! and a guy on the floor! Some people came out of the ufo looked around to see if anybody was looking. When they saw no one they grabbed the man and tried to take him!

119 But they where too weak. The animals started to talk they said that "they needed to save the man" so they devised a plan. The bird where going to fly in and poo on the aliens as a distraction while the foxes, rabbits and lizards went in and grabbed him.

155 They put the plan in motion the bird went in and started to poo on the aliens and their ship then the foxes went in then the lizards and rabbits followed the aliens where so distracted by the birds they didn't pay attention to the other surviving the man once they got the man to safety they waited for the birds once the birds got back they tried to wake up the man once they woke up the man they fled

the man's name Robert Taylor he had a bruise all over his body he called the police and they actually tried to find out what happened

this is a true story Lastly based on when Robert Taylor was thought to be abducted by aliens in 1979 the end
