Monthly Murder

There was a really creepy myth about a man named John Wayne Gacey.

He was known for how nice he was with kids only because he was a party clown but there wasn't enough of the story to be told about him... Born on the 17th of March 1942 this man was brought up as a good man? Or so people thought on January 3rd 1972. Police found his first kill/victim but the mystery was that no-body knew how he killed the person or who did it so it remained a mystery. Until April the 21st 1974 2 years later police found out the name of the body and who it was...

The name of the victim was Timothy McCoy but they never caught him in time he fled the country to Scotland specifically boghall/bathgate to then go on a killing spree, or in my word's the monthly murderer. He has killed 33+ people by murder and sexual assault it's safe to say he was not the man he was seen as.

His last kill took place in was on the 10th of May 1984. His death was on the 23rd of June 1994 10 years after his last kill and his last words before his execution was.

IT IS A GOOD DAY TO DIE
