

the bathgate hills by Grace

It was rumored that the bathgate hills was a place of murder, yes I said it murder. In 1899 a man named Thomas Brown was ruled guilty of 1st degree murder. It was said he killed 4 girls and 3 men. Although he was found guilty there wasn't any real hard evidence. Thomas was sentenced to execution.

4 days after he died it was found that a man named Albert Banks was the true criminal he however was given off with life in prison. All seven murders were held in the same area bathgate hills. These murders weren't just any murders. Each murder was held over a period of 7 years 1 murder each year. Can you guess the last murder I will give you a hint it was planned out so that this man was framed then killed that's right Thomas Brown. Albert ~~Brown~~ ^{Banks} stated as he was ~~looked~~ to his cell ^{the} ~~they~~ ^{all} had it coming he looked back at the courthouse with a chilling grin on his face.

The first time Albert took a life was back in 1892. Tina Turner and Albert had been a item since their school days. Albert was madly in love with Tina but Tina never felt the same about him. When Thomas she knew she could no longer be with Albert, so she ended it. The news from Tina sent Albert into a murderers rage, this lasted

7 years until he finally felt satisfied with his final act of revenge on Thomas Brown from Cairnpapple to Cokeroy, from the knock hill to Lochcote Albert left a trail of bodies. This was why he was known as the bathgate hills killer. to this day people swear they hear the screams of the victims as Albert quenches his thirst for blood.

so if you are out and about in the bathgate hills tread carefully and keep your ears open for you may hear these ungodly ~~scree~~ screams. Stay safe.
