

Bob at Cockeroy.

one day a boy named Bob was walking up to Cockeroy Bob was really short. When he finally got up the hill he jumped in excitement but when Bob jumped a big gust of wind blew him away. Bob thought he was flying but when Bob realised he was falling down Bob got knocked out. When he woke his leg was bleeding.

He got back up Bob was really really dizzy. Luckily someone weird was spying on him so he called Mountain rescue. When they came the person who was spying got arrested and Bob got better.
