The weird trip of bathgate hills

Once, in a normal day in the Summer holidays, my parents called me so I went to their room and they told me that we are going for a trip to bathgate hills for 6 hours tomorrow so I said Ok. Tomorrow morning we eat breakfast, my sister was charging up her phone, my Dad was putting his grill, Sausages burgers and steaks because when we will be there we are planning to do a barbecue. After everything was packed in the car we drove away. When we were there Dad parked the car in a field when we went off the car we stood on the fresh green grass and looked around for 5 minutes, took some pictures of the hills and after that we set up the grill and stuff for the barbecue so Dad cooked the meat, we eat it, it was nice.

After the barbecue we tidied up it was 1:00 pm we were there already 2 hours so me and my sister went for a walk, parents stayed at the field and were on their phones on facebook. During the walk I saw lots of monuments and of course lots of people looking at them, then we saw a forest so we went in it, in front of it was an empty sign so we ignored it.

Inside the forest there was many unusual stuff like strange ripped paintings and interestingly weird symbols on trees and then we saw the strangest thing in our lives

A huge metal thing looked similar to a bus. Meanwhile on facebook my parents found that there is a forest in Bathgate hills which strange things happen in a forest but dad thought it's just some kids who played too much video games. Back to the forest, the thing had a doorframe and we both had a feeling that someone was calling for help so we decided to go in. The bus looking thing looked like a small house inside but no furniture, fridges, TVs and no glass windows but lots of holes but then suddenly everything started to crush, first the doorframe then the rest we quickly went through the holes, got up and watched the thing crush and shrink until it disapeared.

We walked out of the forest and seen the back of the sign saying: NO ENTRY then mum called us because she was worried because we were away for over 2 hours so we went back to our parents and explained what happened but they did not believe us and they punished us from internet for 2 months. After that long chat we drove back home.
